To whom it may concern,

At HG Turf, we started to look into ways to manage our time more efficiently. One of the areas in which we were spending too much time on was searching for tenders. And with the research we were doing we still weren't getting all available tenders that were being open to us. Since subscribing with Tender Search, we no longer have to search through papers and various internet sites with all open tenders available to us being emailed directly to us. This allows us to spend more time on estimating and giving us a better chance at being more competitive in the market place. The customer service that comes hand in hand with the subscription package is also second to none and we would recommend the service to anyone.

Kindest regards
